The first frame (leftmost) is the title page, which includes the text "РЕСПУБЛИКА АРМЕНИЯ" (Republic of Armenia) and "НАСЕЛЕНИЕ В 1957 ГОДУ" (Population in 1957). It also features a small map of Armenia and a table of population by place of residence.

The subsequent frames (frames 2 through 14) contain various tables and forms, including a table of population by age and sex, a table of population by place of residence, and a table of population by place of birth. The tables are organized in a grid-like format, with columns for different categories and rows for data.

The final frame (rightmost) is the last page of the document, which includes a table of population by place of residence and a table of population by place of birth.
